Datacentre Solutions

Maximise uptime and security with Datacentre

Whatever the size of your organisation, the way in which you organise your IT infrastructure, data and key applications is fundamental to the ongoing security and success of your business.

This can be a complex and daunting challenge but, with the right datacentre solution, it's a challenge that can be overcome.

The purpose of the datacentre is to provide a highly secure and remote facility that houses IT infrastructures for organisations of all shapes and sizes. This could be as straightforward as an off-site space to house a single stack of customer equipment to a wide-ranging and complex physical, exterior data space hosting key customer data and essential business applications, or even a privately owned 'in house' facility.

At Kick we cater for each of these instances, working with customers on an individual basis to understand their challenges and deliver the most suitable datacentre solution. Furthermore, in 2025 we invested significantly in modernising our datacentre to provide customers with access to the latest technologies. In so doing, we ensure all of the benefits and peace of mind that our state-of-the-art, fully managed, Nutanix hyper-converged infrastructure environment brings.

What to expect from our datacentre:
